Headline:
Sunny spells on Thursday, the odd shower in east. Warm.

Today:
A dry day for most. Good sunny spells in the east during the morning, cloudier in the west. Isolated showers are possible over East Lothian and the eastern Borders in the afternoon. Warm with light winds. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Tonight:
A mostly dry evening and night with any showers in the east soon dying out. Some clear spells overnight. Light winds. Minimum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Friday:
A dry start with some bright or sunny spells. Cloud builds, leading to a few showers late morning, becoming heavier and more frequent in the afternoon, mainly in the east. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Showers breaking out by day, these heavier and more widespread then the last couple of days. Haar will affect the east coast at times. Quite warm in the sunnier spells.
